Bibliogov. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 24 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.1in.GAO reviewed the Armys program for modifying some of its self-propelled howitzers, a program estimated to cost 1. 5 billion. The Army has deferred approving the full-scale development of the improved howitzers because a cost and operational effectiveness analysis is still in progress, more definitive information on the number of howitzers that should be modified is needed, and the cost estimate needs to be updated. GAO believes that the Army exercised exemplary caution in withholding its approval considering the program uncertainties. The Army has consistently shown its concern about the programs affordability when it has rejected several costly alternative modification programs. GAO found that the Army has a program to procure new armored ammunition supply vehicles which would replenish the howitzers supply of ammunition. The Armys current ammunition supply vehicle is unarmored and affords little protection to the crew or equipment. However, the Army plans to procure only enough armored ammunition supply vehicles to supply half of the howitzers which would be developed. The benefits resulting from improvements to the howitzers may be offset by the fact that the majority of the howitzers will continue to operate with an ammunition supply vehicle which lacks adequate protection. In addition, GAO believes that more information is needed on the operational availability during wartime of the cannon and the effect of the proposed added weight on the howitzers mobility. This item ships from La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
